DESCRIPTION

The Echo sideboard is a testimony to contemporary sinuosity and refined elegance. The base of the structure, made of walnut wood, creates a pleasant horizontal development which gives solidity and coherence to the whole. The doors accentuate the craftsmanship of Turri, who is recognized for his bold experimentation. The right side, covered in leather, was designed to create a contrast: an effect of discontinuity, almost detaching itself from the rest of the furniture. This detail adds a touch of dynamism and originality to the overall design. In addition to its aesthetics, the Echo sideboard is also extremely functional and welcoming.
