«Mi affascina molto il saper fare artigianale». Parola di Lewis Kemmenoe

Al Fuorisalone, il designer britannico ha allestito le vetrine del Flagship store FENDI Casa in Piazza della Scala. Un progetto che omaggia la città di Roma e l'eredità culturale della maison.

FENDI Casa, la poetica di Lewis Kemmenoe

Dopo il debutto della collaborazione tra Lewis Kemmenoe e FENDI a Design Miami, lo scorso dicembre, in occasione della presentazione della nuova collezione di arredi ænigma, il designer britannico torna protagonista alla Milano Design Week con un allestimento dedicato alle vetrine del Flagship store di FENDI Casa in Piazza Della Scala. Un progetto che testimonia l'impegno nella ricerca e nel sostegno ai giovani talenti, fortemente voluto da Silvia Venturini Fendi, da sempre promotrice di nuove visioni progettuali contemporanee. Kemmenoe, con base a Londra, si è formato alla Central Saint Martins e al Royal College of Art, dove ha affinato un linguaggio che intreccia arte, moda, architettura e design. Nei suoi lavori, la materia si fa narrazione: un'indagine sensibile e sperimentale tra materiali e forme organiche, guidata da una pratica intuitiva che celebra la libertà dell'atto creativo. In occasione del Fuorisalone, abbiamo chiacchierato con lui per approfondire la sua poetica progettuale e scoprire l'ispirazione dietro la sua nuova installazione per FENDI Casa.

Arches logo, dining table
— design atelier oï
Line extension 2025
Already a FENDI Casa icon, Arches Logo is reimagined for 2025 with a wooden version that enhances its character. Its generous and welcoming dimensions offer space for increasingly expansive seating arrangements, without compromising its innate versatility. The eclectic design ranges from light natural oak, offering a Scandinavian touch, to marble and metals that emphasise its solidity and timeless elegance.
FF Twist, chair
— design Stefano Gallizioli
New 2025
The name FF Twist evokes the sinuosity of the ribbon which, in a fluid movement, wraps around the seat and transforms into armrests with a unique silhouette. The design, available in leather or metal, is completed with cushions featuring leather backing and luxurious upholstery materials such as shearling, while the ribbon can either match or contrast with the cushions, creating a complex interplay of colours and textures. The FENDI logo, engraved on the back, is the hallmark of a piece that tells a story of timeless style and elegance.
Ells, cabinet
— design Peter Mabeo
New 2025
Crafted in a single distinguished size and offered in a spectrum of wood finishes, this latest addition to the Ells family showcases Mabeo's fresh interpretation of FENDI's signature double-F motif. Each module is punctuated by FF handles, which break up the volume of the curved doors to create dynamism and invite engagement. With its commanding presence, the Ells cabinet is equally at home in living spaces or throughout the home.

FENDI Cover, sofa
New 2025
Like a garment that reflects its wearer's character, the FENDI Cover sofa represents a fresh approach to living room design: a versatile blank canvas offering countless combinations of textures, materials and colours that can be composed into ever-changing looks. The iconic spiral piping and distinctive corner split pay homage to FENDI's design codes.
Ells, side table
— design Peter Mabeo
Line extension 2025
Designed by Peter Mabeo, the Ells collection expands with a side table featuring the now-iconic reinterpretation of FENDI's double F: an interplay of innovative materials – wood, metal, and for the first time in FENDI Casa's history, ceramic. The modular sculptures fit intimately into one another, like an embrace, transforming the side table into an exclusive piece that offers endless combination possibilities.
FENDI Stitch, side table
New 2025
This set of round side tables unites contemporary chromatic contrasts with the House's understated elegance. Like a work of refined craftsmanship, these leather-upholstered tables play with vibrant colours and stitching that evoke the tradition of FENDI's Selleria. Available in various heights, they offer versatility that allows for compositions suitable for any setting, from intimate spaces to larger social areas.

Peekasleep, bed
— design Controvento
Line extension 2025
The Peekasit collection expands with the addition of the Peekasleep bed. Controvento reinterprets FENDI's iconic Peekaboo bag: the name itself suggests playfulness, an object that reveals and conceals, just like the House's celebrated handbag. The enveloping structure, upholstered in leather, transforms the bedroom into a unique space, while the interior, in leather or fabric, ensures comfort.
Lunar night, bedside table
— design Jonas Van Put
Line extension 2025
Part of Jonas Van Put's Lunar range, this bedside table is a versatile piece of furniture. Its distinctive crescent-shaped base creates a sculptural silhouette, with the harmonious balance of form and space delivering both elegance and functionality. Available in a range of metallic finishes and material combinations, with the FENDI logo elegantly incorporated as a handle, each piece is versatile enough to complement any setting.
