PIETRO RUSSO

Whether as a console or a desk, Parsec seamlessly infuses the elegance and character of Pietro Russo's design into both domestic and professional spaces, offering a versatile and refined aesthetic. The iconic structure, characterized by its smooth and rounded lines, features legs that curve into a U shape, with exquisite leather upholstery extending to the top and facing outwards. Within the console, the containers boast a more streamlined and compact design, crafted from matt black powder-coated steel. Within the desk, there are functional container elements in the form of round, swivelling drawers that define the piece's character, and can be either extracted or stored based on your needs.

Feet / Legs: legs in poplar plywood with external matt black lacquer and leather on inside.
